CAMPING IN STATE FORESTS

Camping areas in NSW State Forests are free and they cannot be reserved in advance. Camping is generally not permitted in picnic areas. Exceptions are rest areas in places where major highways pass through state forests.

Dogs ARE permitted.

CAMPING IN NATIONAL PARKS

Camping areas in national parks range from remote bushland clearings to fully featured sites with many facilities. There are several car based or back pack camping sites in the Shoalhaven.

With car-based camping, you can usually camp right next to your car. In some cases you may have a short walk from a car park. There may be varying facilities.

With backpack camping you'll need to carry your tent to an area that cannot be reached by car and usually have no facilities. Back-pack camping can be undertaken throughout national parks as long as you do not camp within 500 metres of any lookout, fire trail, access road or picnic area.

Camping is not permitted on any beach or where there are signs indicating "NO CAMPING".

NO DOGS

CAMPING IN NATURE RESERVES

Camping is not permitted in Nature Reserves.

MINIMAL IMPACT CAMPING

For minimal impact camping follow these rules:

- Use existing areas for camping. Do not clear or damage trees and plants

- Don't feed or disturb native animals
- No camping within 20 metres from the edge of any stream or waterway
- Beware of camping under tall trees. Large limbs may fall, particularly in windy conditions
- Use toilets where available. In non-toilet areas human waste is to be buried at least 50 metres from waterways and camping areas
- Don't use soaps and detergents near creeks or rivers
- Consider other visitors to the forest and keep your noise to a minimum
- Keep vehicles to mapped and/or marked roads. General road rules apply
- Keep your campsite safe and clean. At the end of your stay please make sure that your camp is tidy, and that you take all of your rubbish home
- Use established fireplace wherever possible. Never leave a campfire unattended and extinguish campfires properly before leaving. No camp fires during Total Fire Bans
- Carry adequate supplies, including drinking water, fuel and a first aid kit
- Dogs are permitted in State forests, but must be kept under control
- Leave gates as you find them. Do not use roads and tracks on private property without the owner's permission or other areas closed to the public
- If going to a remote area, let someone know your route and when you plan to return
- Dogs are not permitted in National Parks

SHALLOW CROSSING STATE FOREST

LOCATION:

30 minutes drive from Batemans Bay on the upper reaches of the Clyde River, where a low concrete causeway separates the salt water from the fresh. The area is surrounded by the Boyne, South Brooman and Shallow Crossing State Forests and is a haven for fisherman, bushwalkers, four wheel drivers and those who just like to sit around in the quiet listening to the birds and the wind through the trees. Shallow Crossing can be accessed from the Princes Highway at East Lynne or from the Kings Highway, Nelligen. Either way involves travel along well formed dirt roads suitable for all vehicles. Extreme care should be taken if driving on these roads after rain as they can become very slippery when wet. Both access roads and surrounding forest roads are shown on the South Coast State Forest map.
